NUMBER 33

Persons wishing tomato and sweet potato plants should read the advertisement of R. H. Nicol & Co. in another column.

The number of persons in town on County Court-day was not so great as on the preceding Court-day, but still there was a very fair crowd in town. Sales of stock were rather duller than usual. There were no cattle on the market, except a couple of milch cows, but plug horses were largely in excess of the demand.

Mr. Wm. E. Day, of Chicago, Illinois, and Miss Mary Brown Russell, a popular young lady of this city, were married at the Presbyterian Church, at one o'clock Wednesday, Rev. J. W. Pugh officiating, and left on the afternoon train for their future home in Chicago, carrying with them the good wishes and congratulations of a host of friends.

A little after eleven o'clock yesterday morning the sheds belonging to Mr. George B. Macklin's coal yard, opposite the arsenal, were discovered to be on fire, and in a few moments were wrapped in flames. The fire department was promptly on hand, but before they could get to work the small frame house just east of the sheds took fire, and it, together with the sheds, was rapidly consumed. A strong wind was blowing at the time, and the frame dwelling of Mrs. Parker, on the east, would also have been destroyed but for the fire department giving its whole attention to saving it, which they did, although it was several times in flames. The sheds were used for the purpose of storing anthracite coal and wagons, but, fortunately, there were no wagons or coal in them at the time. About ten tons of hay that was in the sheds was destroyed. The total loss is about $1,500.

Cove Hill.

Horses are dying with some new disease, we know not what.

Mr. Q. D. Wilcoxon, of Bagdad, passed through this vicinity this week.

Rev. Mr. Phelps was in our neighborhood last week, looking young and well.

Whooping-cough has about disappeared and miscellaneous troubles now exist.

The cave at the head of the cove is a curiosity that is worth coming to see.

We learn that Mrs. William Church, who has been very ill for several days, is improving slowly.

Mrs. Mary Gaines has greatly improved the appearance of her residence with a new coat of paint.

The services at the school-house to-morrow afternoon will be conducted by Mr. Phelps, instead of Mr. Tharp, as previously stated.

We were sorry to learn of the death of one of Frankfort's worthiest citizens, Mr. J. R. Graham. The bereaved family has the sympathy of our entire community.

TRAMP.

Belle Point.

Mrs. S. V. Pence has been quite ill this week, but is convalescent now.

Miss Parmelia Collins has returned from a visit to relatives near Lawrenceburg.

We have not been informed as to when and where the next meeting of the Pierian Club will be.

Mr. R. L. Grinstead's horse was found near Bethlehem, Henry county, last Monday and returned.

Judge Pence has commenced building a pontoon bridge across Benson wide enough to drive his teams over.

Mr. F. E. Lewis had a fine bay mare to stray off Tuesday evening, and up to this writing has not been heard of.

Mr. Ed. Bawner purchased of Judge Pence the fine sorrel mare, Milly, and is now running a team of his own.

Messrs. Gault & Co. are making a large number of bricks daily. They will be ready to burn their large kiln in a few weeks.

We have been asked by at least for y different persons when, and by whom will the Benson bridge be built. We simply reply "don't know."

Master Tommy Irvin caught over twenty pounds of fish on a trot line Wednesday. The line only reached a quarter of the way across the river.

We feel like we are living in the country now. The wagons have quit coming in, and if the Champion mill did not run every day, there would be a general cessation of business in our village.

Mr. L. McDaniel died at five o'clock Wednesday afternoon from cancer, having been afflicted for a number of years. He was over 70 years old. The funeral was preached in the Christian Church by Elder George Darsie, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, and the remains interred in the beautiful cemetery on the hill.

Elmville.

Mrs. Bettie Hall, who lives near this place, is very sick.

Mrs. Nancy Spun has moved to Elmville, and is well pleased with our people.

Our post-office has been closed on account of the resignation of postmaster A. Hord Sinclair.

Mr. Geo. Brink is out again. He has been confined to his room for several weeks with pneumonia.

Scarlet fever is all gone. All the old cases are out, and Dr. J. L. Massie reports no new ones.

Several of our townsmen have organized a circulating library which will be of value to this neighborhood.

Mr. Frank Thomas has returned to his home in Graiz, Owen county, and has left one sad heart, at least, in these parts.

There's the best prospect for wheat in this district that has been known for many years. Farmers have planted but little corn, owing to the wet weather.

Messrs. James and John Bridges, of Owen county, have bought farms and moved to them two miles west of this place, where they expect to cultivate fifty acres of tobacco.

Mr. Ferguson, who has located in our village for the purpose of merchandising, brought on his stock of goods, and while waiting on a customer—selling shot and caps—gave him to understand that he would not order any powder until the game law had expired. Good for Lou!

Some of the farmers are turning out and replanting the corn which was washed away by the hard rains.

Three valuable additions were made to the Good Templars' Lodge at this place, last week. Still they come.

Mr. J. W. Hall, who was a delegate to the Democratic convention at Glencoe, returned home Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Jno. Wilson and wife, of Anderson county, who have been visiting relatives near this place, have returned home.

State Counselor Sidney French and several members of Capital Lodge, Frankfort, honored the Good Templars of French Lodge with their presence last week. Percy Smith, one of the party, entertained us with a very eloquent and interesting address. Come again, gentlemen.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, MAY 8, 1880.

If your ROUNDABOUT is marked on the first page with a red X it indicates that your subscription has expired and must be renewed before you receive another paper.

The Franklin Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. R. Hendrick, pastor, is to have a new church edifice in South Frankfort. A portion of the lot at the corner of Second and Steele streets has been purchased of Col. J. W. Hunt Reynolds, for the sum of $1,400, on which the building will be erected.

Only one member of the Legislature, as far as heard from, has spoken ill-naturedly of Frankfort and her people—the famous member from Owen county, who denounced this fair city as a “sinkhole of corruption, and the home of more chronic office-seekers and poor old maids than any other place on earth.”

About six o'clock yesterday morning three convicts made an attempt to escape over the outer walls of the penitentiary, which resulted in the death of one of them.

The men were — Smith, from Harrodsburg, sent for life; — Smith, from Henderson, sent for five years; Free, Farris, colored, from Richmond, sent for life. They placed a ladder against the wall, near the south-west corner of the yard, having a rope tied to the upper end of the ladder, by which they could descend on the other side.

The two white men made the ascent and were descending on the outside before they were discovered. Farris, the negro (he is almost white, having been frequently mistaken for a white man), was nearly at the top of the ladder when John Ries, a guard on the wall at the south-east corner of the yard, saw him and fired at him with a Ballard rifle, at a distance of about one hundred yards, the ball striking him near the left temple and killing him instantly.

The two Smiths were shortly afterwards recaptured in the cemetery on the hill, and returned to their quarters within the prison walls.

Esquire Geo. W. Gwin was notified of the death of Farris, and proceeded immediately to have a jury summoned for the purpose of holding an inquest. After examining the body, and hearing all the testimony in the case, the jury returned a verdict that the said “Freeman Farris came to his death by a gunshot wound from the hands of John Ries, one of the prison guards, and whilst the said Farris was on and ascending a ladder and endeavoring to make his escape from confinement in said Kentucky penitentiary.”

Senator Cyrus W. Gilmore, of Pulask county, died suddenly of apoplexy, at the Weitzel Hotel, at 12 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had been quite ill for some time, but occupied his seat in the Senate Chamber Wednesday, since which time he had been confined to his bed. He was much esteemed by his brother Senators, and had many friends in this city. It is said that he has neither kith nor kin living, but his friends in Pulask county were telegraphed of the sad event.

June approacheth and the school-boy grineth.

The Art Loan Exhibition closed its brilliant career in this city Monday night. We were unable to learn the receipts, but we understand they far exceeded the expectations of the ladies who had it in charge.

To Whom It May Concern.

Nearly two years since, Dr. J. M. Buckley, of Frankfort, made me a full set of artificial teeth—the upper plate being celluloid, and the lower metal. They answer admirably for mastication, and, for natural beauty, cannot be excelled. Dr. Buckley is an old experienced dentist, and, in this style of work, I consider he has no superior in this section of country. R. RENVAN.

May 5th, 1880.

A Card.

The Committee on Work-house, from the City Council, having advertised to let the city work-house to the highest and best bidder, the bids to be in by the first day of May, 1880, two bids were put in as follows:

Ed. Lillis' bid for breaking and spreading rock on the streets, 85 cents per perch; for street crossings, complete, 75 cents per foot for the labor of the prisoners, 30 cents per day.

I bid for breaking and spreading rock on the streets, 80 cents per perch; for street crossings, complete, 70 cents per foot; for the labor of the prisoners, 35 cents per day.

It will be observed that my bid was five cents less per perch for breaking and spreading rock on the streets, five cents less per foot for making street crossings, and five cents per day more for the labor of prisoners. I could have given as good a bond as Mr. Lillis, or any other man, and the question now presents itself why did not the committee accept my bid? The only solution I can give is that Mr. Lillis is in debt to Mr. Ed. Burns who is chairman of the committee, and Mr. Burns gave the contract to Mr. Lillis so he could save his debt.

Is it the policy of the members of the City Council to give contracts to persons for their own individual interests, to the detriment of the tax-payers of the city? Why did the committee advertise for bids if they had already made up their minds to give it to the man from whom they could derive the most personal benefit?

D. J. NEWMAN.

Temperance Wins.

The following items are taken from the Petersburg (Ill.) Democrat, a paper published at the county seat of Menard county, Illinois. They are further evidences of the determination of the people to rise up in their might and drive the accursed rum traffic from the land. If the women of Frankfort would pursue a similar course to the brave women of Menard county, Illinois, the friends of temperance would experience little difficulty in winning the fight for local option in this city at the next August election.

In all the towns and villages in Menard county where elections have occurred this spring anti license has carried, and this includes all that have a corporate existence under our municipal law. So that we will have a county free from saloon license one year, at least.

Yesterday, April 20th, was the annual election for village officers, consisting of trustees, clerk, and police magistrate. Two tickets in the field, the issue being between license and anti-license to sell liquor at saloons. Business was nearly at a stand still, and the excitement being centered around the voting place and free lunch room, opened not far off by the ladies, and well patronized by the sterner sex. The ladies took a very prominent part in the election, promenading the street with their hands full of tickets, encouraging their winning smiles and bright eyes those they had won over to temperance, entreating and pleading with those not yet brought over, watching the doubtful ones, and doing their work so well that the ticket was elected by a handsome majority.

On Tuesday the great battle was fought between the license and anti-license party, which resulted in the election of the whole anti license ticket. The scene witnessed on our streets in the evening when the victory was announced cannot be described. Cheer after cheer went up from men, women and children. All the bells in town were rung, anvils fired, and the old town cannon was rescued from the enemy and pealed forth to the surrounding country. In unmistakable tones, that Athens had followed the glorious example of the county seat of Menard. A supper was given by the W. C. T. U. and some of the temperance ladies of the vicinity, at Capt. Hart's Hotel, of which over two hundred persons partook. The tables were beautifully decorated and bountifully supplied with choice viands. A procession was formed after the result of the election was made known, headed by the music of the drums and carrying of banners improvised for the occasion, and marched to Mr. Rankin's residence, to communicate the joyful news. He came out and responded to their cheers by a eloquent address. The rejoicings were kept up to a late hour in the night.

From hundreds of reported cases where patients have increased in weight from five to forty pounds while using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphates, no doubts remain of its powerful action on the organs of nutrition.
